BITTER FIGHT LOOMS OVER VICE PRESIDENCY; HARBORD, HOOVER LEAD IN RACE FOR NOMINATION

BEVERIDGE THREATENS TO LEAD THE FIGHT ON THE FLOOR AGAINST IT

Hoover Says He Is In No Wise a Candidate

WASHINGTON, D. C., June 11.—(By the United Press)—Secretary of Commerce Hoover conferred with President Coolidge today. Asked as he was leaving the White House what his position toward the vice presidency was, Hoover replied that his position that he was in no wise a candidate, had not changed an atom.

Asked whether he would accept the nomination if made, he replied that he had not been asked to do so.

Hoover discussed with the president the situation in the Light House service caused by the failure of the deficiency bill.

To Get President's View on Vice Presidency

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge probably will be asked before a night by party leaders here for an expression of view respecting the vice presidential nomination.

Conferees among the leaders of the various factions developed little or no unanimity of opinion, and, as one of the high in the councils of the party expressed it, "we are ready to be bossed."

WHEAT STATES DELEGATES TO SELECT FAVORITE

CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the United Press)—Delegates from all the wheat states west of the Mississippi river, with the exception of Wisconsin, are banding together in the effort to agree upon a middlewestern candidate for vice president.

An initial meeting to discuss the matter was held this morning at the hotel where the delegates are gathered, and it was understood that at the outset, the delegates favor either Judge Kenyon, of Iowa, or Senator Curtis, of Kansas.

(BY ROBERT J. BENDER)

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the United Press)—Backed by Militant American Legion men, a boom for Major General James G. Harbord as running mate for President Coolidge, shook the second session of the Republican National Convention here today.

Craved in a conference of ex-service delegates, aided by such administration spokesmen as Secretary of War Weeks and Assistant Secretary of the Navy Roosevelt during conferences lasting into the early this morning, the Harbord campaign, given added impetus by the Kansas delegation, swung up alongside that of Herbert Hoover, for a finish fight that is expected to have all the dramatic qualities of the presidential nomination four years ago.

A final wired refusal of Frank O. Lowden to consider the honor—which he has home delegation and others to abandon their efforts for the former Illinois governor—narrowed the field to a contest between Harbord and Hoover.

Lowden's refusal was given in a letter to the delegates, in which he stated that he was not prepared to leave his home and family to go to Washington to fight for the nomination.

Harbord, who is a native of Illinois, is a former governor of that state and a member of the United States Senate. He is a well-known figure in the Republican party and has been a strong supporter of President Coolidge.

Hoover, who is a native of Ohio, is a former secretary of commerce and a member of the United States Senate. He is a well-known figure in the Republican party and has been a strong supporter of President Coolidge.

LEOPOLD AND LOEB ENTER PLEAS OF NOT GUILTY

CHICAGO, June 11.—(By the United Press)—Richard Leopold, Jr., and Edward George Loeb, confessed slayers of 14-year-old Robert Franks, today started the long road through the courts that leads to the gallows, to prison, to an asylum or to freedom.

The two young intellectuals who "just for the fun of it" they said, had murdered the Franks boy, were notified early today that their names are on the "arraignment call." They were taken before Judge John H. Caverly to enter their pleas. They pleaded not guilty to charges of kidnapping and murder.

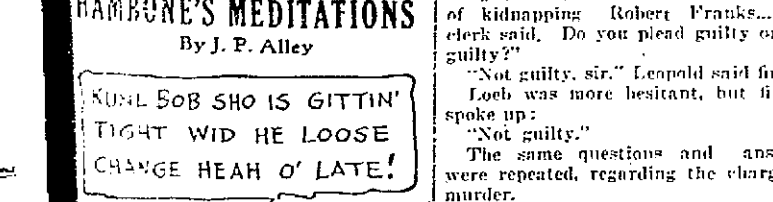

James To Nominate Harbord

It is reported General Charles Daves, himself assured as a possible candidate early in the proceedings, will come to Cleveland to nominate his friend Harbord, a Kansas, and have had of the Radio Corporation of America is pointed to, because of his experience, as one who would command the support of farmers (he is president of the Agricultural College of Mississippi) and has lived most of his life west of the Mississippi) the support of service men on his record as

Chairman Of The Republican Convention

Frank W. Mondell

Mondell Says The Country Has Confidence In Coolidge

CLEVELAND, June 11.—(By the Associated Press)—President Coolidge has justified the confidence that "inspired" his nomination for Vice President at Chicago, and the greater confidence reposed in him his taking up the duties of chief executive is the "outstanding fact" in the political situation, Frank W. Mondell, of Wyoming, declared today in his address as permanent chairman of the Republican National Convention.

Mr. Mondell called an appeal for Republican majorities in congress "in name and principle," saying that every serious fault of recent legislation would have been avoided had the President had that strength at his house and senate.

The chairman assailed the Democrats for their "utter lack of fixed and definite principle or policy, save that of muck-raking and obstruction."

Referring to the situation in the last congress, when insurgents joined with Democrats to control legislation, Mr. Mondell said that never before had the necessity for dependable party majority and definite party responsibility been so clearly demonstrated.

"We are met as the representatives of a great political party that has never failed nor faltered in its service or loyalty to the republic—that has never proposed nor advocated an unwise or unwise national policy, and it is our privilege on behalf of this party to place in nomination for the highest offices in the gift of the American people candidates who shall measure up to the finest standards of party leadership and who

Bitter Fight In Drafting Committee Over Farm, World Court, and Klan Issues

(BY PAUL R. MALLON)

(United Press Staff Correspondent)
CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the United Press)—After a bitter fight lasting throughout the night, the drafting committee of the Republican National Convention finally agreed upon the new Coolidge platform at 5:20 a. m. today.

In a smoke-filled room of the Cleveland Hotel here the planks were drawn, one by one, with many stormy struggles. Farm issue representatives on the committee staged a long attack upon the agricultural relief provision, but just before dawn they were compelled to accept what they described as a "Luke Warm" compromise.

Prohibition is not specifically mentioned, although law enforcement forms the basis of one plank. The only plank which might be interpreted as referring to the Ku Klux Klan is described as a declaration of reaffirming the party's devotion to the constitution and its

Face Powder, Rouge and Jazz Flayed

Modern Girl Is Scored, Praised

Bobbed Hair, Corsetless Femininity Endorsed

CHICAGO, June 11.—(By the United Press)—Subjects ranging from rejuvenation by gland transplanting and resuscitation methods to the harm of face powders, rouge and jazz were on the program for today's session of the various sections of the American Medical Association convention here.

The gland theory was called mythology by Dr. Clarence A. McWilliams, New York surgeon, in an address prepared for delivery before the surgery section. Rules for resuscitation after electric shock were prepared by Willis MacLachlan, of the National Electric Light Association and Professor H. N. Cole, of Western Reserve University, deploring the increasing use of cosmetics.

This generation of jazz was blamed for the increase in the prevalence of gonorrhea by Dr. G. W. Newell, who declared half of the women and girls of the middlewest are afflicted.

"High powered motor cars, dances, theatres, cabarets, liquor and the other innumerable factors that play a part in the regular life of many of our urban adolescents today have set such a hectic pace that the human nervous system isn't equal to it," he said. "It results in complete fatigue which prevents the natural elimination of the toxins of the body, resulting in gonorrhea."

"The girl of today is something to be proud of," said Dr. Katherine D. Manion, retiring president of the National Medical Women's Association, meeting in connection with the American Medical Association.

"The modern girl is the healthiest, happiest girl the world ever has known," she said, "and I wouldn't exchange the modern flapper as you call her, for any other girl of any other time. Girls used to be defenseless creatures who sat at home with their knitting, faced up in tight corsets and almost never indulged in any outdoor exercise."

"The girl of today who swims, plays golf, lobs her hair, goes without corsets, wears flat heels and takes long hikes is something to be mighty proud of," she said. "Chaperones are extinct, but only because they are no longer needed. The modern girl can take care of herself. Her mind is as healthy as her body and her intelligence and independence protect her."

Press-Time Bulletins

ALLIANCE, O., June 11.—The bodies of Charles Paschall, 35, barber, and Joe Bonnard, negroes were found late this afternoon in the flooded east Sixth street. Apparently they were on their way home when overtaken by the flood.

NEW YORK, June 11.—(United Press)—Francis Thimney, famous Broadway comedian, was ordered held in $2,500 bond for action by the grand jury following completion of his hearing in West Side court today on a charge of felonious assault lodged by Imogene Wilson, 40, girl.

STURBEVILLE, O., June 11.—William Thompson, aged 35, well known resident of Adams, on the outskirts of Jefferson county, shot and killed his wife and then carried his revolver on himself, committing suicide last midnight.

NEW YORK, June 11.—Ten armed bandits today held up a United States customs truck, loaded with driver unconscious and escaped with 27 packages of precious stones which were being transferred from the general postoffice in West 33rd street to the appraiser's stores on Washington street.

MILLERAND RESIGNS AS PRESIDENT OF FRANCE; PAINLEVE TO BE CHOSEN

PARIS, June 11.—(By the United Press)—Alexander Millerand, who became president of the Republic of France in September, 1920, handed in his resignation at a meeting of cabinet ministers today—beaten by votes of demagogues, who won over Millerand's supporters in the recent national elections.

The president's resignation was read before the chamber and senate this afternoon.

Millerand's passing marks the climax of one of the stormiest periods in modern French political history. His own efforts to make the presidency the office of leadership of the country, Millerand defeated the bloc national, which kept M. Poincare in power. The Socialists defeated the bloc national at the polls and demanded Millerand's head.

The text of Millerand's resignation was short and to the point: "I have the honor to hand you my resignation as president of the Republic."

Millerand will publish "an explanation to the nation" later.

Painleve To Be New President

The senate and chamber will meet at Versailles Friday according to French custom, when a new president will be named. It is thought probable the honor will be conferred upon Paul Painleve, a leader of the Left, recently elected president of the chamber.

Republicans To Make No Attempt to Placate The La Follette Insurgents

(BY DAVID LAWRENCE)

CONVENTION, CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—The Republican National convention has developed these three distinct characteristics thus far:

1. That there should be no catering to the radicals and La Follette group, no compromises, no attitude which begs support, nothing but a polite and tolerant indifference.
2. That the Republican record in Congress and the individualists who have messed up the legislative program should not lead the party here or guide its councils, but should be in the background while the Coolidge management proclaims the party purposes and policies.
3. That the Republican platform should be in accord with what Mr. Coolidge wants it to be on all controversial questions, including the soldier bonus, the World Court and agricultural problems.

Squash Insurgent Moves

Taking up these points in order, one finds that the movement which originated in Wisconsin to have the convention here adopt resolutions pledging all the delegates in advance to support whoever is nominated, will not be followed through for the simple reason that to have such a battle with the La Follette group means the proposal on their part of a substitute resolution asking the party

CINCINNATI, O., June 11.—(By the United Press)—Fighting occurred last night in the neighborhood here where race riots threatened last year. A mob of whites drove negro members of a medicine show from a park. This was followed by a long distance interchange of rocks and bottles.

May Nominate Coolidge Tonight

(By The Associated Press)
MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the Associated Press)—There was a platform today to hold a night session of the Republican National Convention to nominate Coolidge, leaving tomorrow free for balloting on vice president. The leaders had not agreed upon it but it was said that the failure to get an agreement on the vice presidential candidate had aroused a considerable sentiment for getting all other convention business out of the way tonight.

A contributing factor was the uncertainty over how much time might be taken up today by a floor fight over the platform. The La Follette delegates from Wisconsin were asked and asked to make as much of a demonstration as they are permitted under the convention rules, although they had no hope of forcing adoption of any part of their substitute platform.

Women Win Fight For Equal Representation

(BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS)
MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—(By the Associated Press)—Paul Howland, of Cleveland, chairman of the committee on rules, who has acted as counsel for former Attorney General Daugherty during the senate investigation made quite a speech before the convention today and started a crescendo of cheering when he announced the committee had given to the ladies equal representation on the national committee. Many of the cheerers shrilled from feminine throats but many men were standing and cheering, too, before the short demonstration was over.

Almost for the first time since the convention began, Wisconsin stood up with the rest.

(BY ROBERT J. BENDER)

MUNICIPAL AUDITORIUM, CLEVELAND, O., June 11.—While the resolutions committee struggled in the platform drafted by its sub-committee throughout the night, the Republican National Convention in a brief session today cleared the way for final action on the platform this evening. Rumblings of an impending storm over the World Court plank drawn by the sub-committee reached the convention leaders just before today's session got under way. It was to head off, if possible, a threatened outbreak on the floor by such opponents of the Coolidge court plan as William Brewster, Beveridge of Indiana, that Chairman Frank W. Mondell, amidst a din of "noes" gavelled the convention into a recess shortly after 12:30.

The delegates were told to reconvene at 8 p. m., which time the party leaders hope to have achieved a platform with all its planks satisfactory to those who threaten trouble.

Decision to recess came after a consultation among the leaders who had been informed that plans of the resolutions committee to effect an early agreement on the planks prepared during the long night session had gone astray. Beveridge's support of his conference, Senator Watson—let it be known that he would not stand for an unequivocal acceptance of the Coolidge court proposal and if such a proposal were embodied in the platform presented to the convention he would make an open fight against it from his delegates' seat on the floor.

Seek To Keep Fight In Committee

Desiring to avoid any trouble at the end of an otherwise thoroughly peaceful meeting the convention generally decided to keep the platform fight within the confines of the resolutions committee room until all the differences were ironed out.

COOLIDGE'S WORLD COURT PLANK IS ADOPTED

(BULLETIN)
CLEVELAND, June 11.—After a heated and prolonged discussion the resolutions committee today adopted the world court plank as presented by the sub-committee on the assurance that it had been written personally by President Coolidge.

The party loyalty plank, which brought on the fight from Representative Cooper, of Wisconsin, during the afternoon, was also adopted by the full convention meeting rolled over in the committee room and despite his protests and demands that the Progressives be informed upon whose authority they were behind real out of the party, the plank went through.

No Subway Trains

LONDON, June 11.—(By the United Press)—No subway trains were in operation in London during the rush hour on Monday morning, June 10, due to overloading of the power stations where a few loyal workers are not on strike. The walkout of some 8,000 other power house employees, called in defiance of organized labor leaders, showed no signs of abating.

Golf Club Surrenders Links in East Portsmouth; N. & W. To Convert Ground Into Athletic Field

The Portsmouth Golf Club has surrendered its links in East Portsmouth to the owners of the ground, the Norfolk and Western Railway company. While the new links on the West Side are not ready for play it was not deemed advisable to spend any money on the links in East Portsmouth.

Officials of the N. & W. stated today that part of the ground would be used for additional switching purposes and the rest would be converted into an athletic field. Tennis courts, quoit courts, horseshoe pitching pits will be built and it is likely that in the near future the N. & W. ball games would be staged on the field where for years long drives, clever puts and dandy frols have been made by local golfers.

It was 15 years ago when the Portsmouth Golf Club was formed by 15 local men and the links in East Portsmouth were established. "Many interesting and colorful matches have been staged there and it is with much regret that we leave there," John Williams, chairman of the green's committee, said Wednesday.

Clara Weidman, professional for the club is now located at the new Country Club, Galena Pike.

East End Merchants Seek Change in New Bus Line

Business men in the East End are circulating a petition to have buses soon to be placed in operation in the city extended south of the Viaduct in the East End to Grandview avenue or Clay street and then go east on Eleventh street to Young street instead of going straight to Young street after leaving the Viaduct. "This would include our business section in the East End and as soon as all the business men sign the petition it will be presented to the Portsmouth Public Service company," John Voelker of the Voelker Dry Goods company, said Wednesday.

ANDREW GLASS WILL RETURN TO WHEELING STEEL CO. TO BECOME VICE PRESIDENT IN CHARGE OF OPERATIONS

Announcement was made Wednesday at the offices of the Portsmouth Works, Wheeling Steel Corporation, that on June 15, Andrew Glass, formerly a resident of Portsmouth would become vice president of the plants of the Wheeling Steel Corporation in charge of operations. The plants are located in Portsmouth, Steubenville and Wheeling and Mr. Glass will have his headquarters in Wheeling. For the past three years he has been engaged in the steel brokerage business in New York. As plant manager he will succeed William J. Stoop, who also formerly resided here and has been prominently identified with the Wheeling Steel Corporation. Mr. Stoop is slated to succeed H. L. Shreck as general engineer in charge of all construction. It was stated that these changes would not affect the plant here and all officials would remain in their present capacities. Mr. Glass is well known in the steel industry and his many friends here will be interested to learn that he is returning to his former position. He and Mr. Stoop are regarded as being among the shrewdest all round steel men in this country. Mr. Glass married Miss Dorothy Varner of this city and they have two children.

Man Buys Ford With Bogus Check; Police on His Trail

The police are looking for a man who obtained possession and made away with a second-hand Ford coupe from the S. A. Stewart Ford agency, Scotoville, over the bogus check route. The man claiming to be a railroad fireman, called at the Stewart garage Saturday and after arranging to buy the auto in question issued a check in the name of "C. Hutton" for the sum of $30.50 down payment and left with the car. The deception was discovered yesterday when the bank returned the check as worthless with the statement that there was no account in the name given and further inquiry disclosed that there was no fireman employed locally by the name of "C. Hutton." The police are also investigating an alleged attempt to "film-film"

Mrs. A. L. McGinnis of the McGinnis pharmacy, 4202 Gallia street, New Boston, out of her Buick roadster auto by the bad check method, which, it is said, was frustrated when the intended victim became suspicious and held up the deal which was engineered by a salesman who was employed by a local auto agency until recently. He had agreed to sell the car on commission and on finding a purchaser took a check signed by one "J. L. Johnson" in payment. This check was found to be worthless when presented to the bank and the bogus paper was turned over to Chief Arthur with a request that an effort be made to ascertain whether the salesman accepted the check in good faith from a person by that name.

Car Stolen Here Recovered in Ashland

PINE CREEK GOES ON RAMPAGE FOLLOWING CLOUDBURST; STORE AND HOMES FLOODED; DAMAGE TO CROPS IS HEAVY

Floods in Little Pine Creek and Pine Creek as the result of a cloudburst in the vicinity of Pine Grove Furnace, Lawrence Furnace and Devo, caused thousands of dollars of damage yesterday and today according to word brought to the city today by G. H. Distenfeld, berry grower and Republican candidate for County Commissioner from near Powellville.

The cloudburst occurred about two o'clock Tuesday afternoon and was over the head of Little Pine Creek which joins into Pine Creek at Kelley's Mill. Little Pine Creek was booming within a few hours and early last evening farmers general sows at Pine Grove Furnace had eight inches of water on the floor. In some houses water was up to the window sills. As far as could be learned this morning, no stock was lost but considerable damage was done to truck gardens which were badly washed and in some instances washed away by the force of the flood waves.

The northward creek also flooded early Tuesday morning and wheat fields and caused some damage to these crops. Mr. Distenfeld reported a large number of trucks caught in the high water near Pine Grove Furnace, the water forcing the engine of the machine. The creek was booming today as a result of the flood in Little Pine. At Powellville the Pine Creek was out of its banks, the water covering the road so that when Mr. Distenfeld drove through it was up to the running board of his car.

Bitter Fight

The first clash started when Governor Blaine, of Wisconsin, read to the committee a set of resolutions denouncing former Attorney General Daugherty and former Secretary of the Interior Fall. These resolutions were recently announced as La Follette declarations. Delegate Adams, of Oregon, moved that the resolutions be "sent back to La Follette" and amidst hisses and cheers his motion was ruled out of order by Warren.

Spirited Clashes On Issues
Spirited clashes also were fought on the Ku Klux Klan and world court issues. The rest of the Coolidge proposals were near. Inside, the other bugged committee continued to wrangle over minor points until the final announcement was made by Chairman Charles Warren.

The platform was prepared for presentation to the full resolutions committee at 10:00 a. m. and will be submitted to the convention by the full committee at about 3:00 p. m., according to present plans.

It is 6,000 words in length and is based upon the original Coolidge design of criticizing the recent congress. These resolutions of its provisions as given to the United Press by an indisputable authority:

Economy

A statement pointing to the accomplishments of the present administration with particular reference to reducing the number of government employees and conserving expenditures.

Agriculture

A promise by the Republican party to restore the balance of economic conditions as between agriculture and industry. No reference is made to the McNamara price stabilizing measure which was killed in congress under Mr. Coolidge's pressure. An endorsement of the emergency tariff act as being of assistance both to farmers and to industry.

World Court

A restatement of the Republican position against American entrance or adherence to League of Nations. An expression that this government should enter some sort of international court of justice, with an added statement expressing belief in the Harding-Coolidge plan with the Hughes reservations.

Immigration

Praise of the new restrictive immigration bill with no mention of the recent international complications resulting from the Japanese exclusion provision.

Scandals

Condemnation of misfeasance and malfeasance in office with a specific reference to the investigations.

Taxation

Belief is expressed that reduction of taxation should be based upon some plan more scientific than the new law. A call for reform in methods of taxation. A declaration favoring the proposal for organization of a tax revision commission working out with the state government some means for avoiding overlapping legislation.

Veterans' Bureau

A demand that every possible care be afforded disabled veterans.

Prohibition

Pledge general law enforcement.

Law and Order

A plea for orderly government.

Party Loyalty

A declaration urging party regularity and harmony.

REPUBLICANS

to repudiate Albert B. Fall and Harry M. Daugherty. This would lead to an open breach in which the radicals would embarrass the convention as a whole and give the Wisconsin group the excuse they are seeking for to desert the Republican party in favor of an independent ticket.

Platform to Be Strictly Coolidge's

When the platform is finished it will be described by its proponents as liberal and progressive without any note of impractical radicalism. It will contain no startling pronouncements, but will simply be a reiteration of Coolidge doctrines as heretofore expounded.

The Vice Presidential Situation

The choice will be made on the floor after the nominating speeches are made and it would not be surprising to see a number of complimentary votes given to various Republicans in order to feel out the sentiment of the convention. The Illinois delegation has voted to petition former Governor Lowden to reconsider his refusal to place his name in nomination first, with Alton—first on the roll call—yielding to Illinois for that purpose.

Confidence In Coolidge

Confidence in President Coolidge is the most important and outstanding fact in the political situation today, and in the presence of inevitable differences of opinion on questions of moment, this confidence is as the cement to the American people as it is to the President.

Never was an administration confronted with more difficult and perplexing problems than those presented to the Republican administration and the marvelous record of legislative and administrative accomplishment which followed is without parallel in the annals of government.

Never before in our history the need and necessity of a responsible party majorities and of definite party responsibility have so clearly demonstrated as in the very recent past. Legislative control by shifting and changing combinations, resulting in majorities having no common faith and recognizing no united responsibility, cannot, in the nature of things, produce legislative results beneficial or satisfactory to the people of the country. The inevitable effect of such

Followers an exaggerated importance in the convention which from a publicity viewpoint might be to their advantage later on. Coolidge Forces Play Independent Hand.

As for the "old guard" and Congress, the Coolidge leaders are playing for a public impression of independence. They want the people who are resentful of Congressional inefficiency to realize that the party as a whole has no sympathy with it and leans rather to the making of the platform to accord with the President's speeches and address. Coolidge is proceeding smoothly and without interference by the Congressional leaders, many of whom are astute enough politicians to appreciate that perhaps with the unpopularity of Congress the strategy of the Coolidge managers may not be unwise after all.

On the World Court, the Coolidge-Hughes-Hughes idea of American membership in the World Court created by the League of Nations will prevail.

On the soldier bonus, the platform will not "point with pride" to the adjusted compensation bill, which Congress passed, but will content itself with a general declaration of satisfaction over what the Republican party has done for the veterans of the World War, especially the disabled.

SOCIETY

Miss Ethel Reynolds of Marietta, Ohio, arrived here Monday to be the guest for a few days of her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Freddy Myers of 1119 Eighteenth street.

Miss Irene Jones, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Jones, 1515 Eleventh street, is visiting her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Jones of Long Meadow, Schenectady.

Rev. and Mrs. H. Stewart Tillis and children, Marjorie and Gordon of Waller street, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Newman and children, Eunice and Robert of Gray street, are planning a delightful trip West this summer. They will leave Monday in their automobiles with full camping equipment, for Denver, Colorado, and will spend the nights in the open, enroute. They will visit the Garden of the Gods, then to the Rocky Mountain National Park, then south to the Grand Canyon of Colorado and journey from there to Los Angeles, California. From there they will travel up the coast, visiting the national parks and other points of interest, visiting further in Washington and Glacier National Park in Montana. From the Yellowstone Park, they will visit Custer's famous battlefield, before striking the road for home. They plan to be gone for the summer.

The Second Division of the Ladies' Relief Society of the First Evangelical church will meet Thursday afternoon at the home of Miss Clara Seel on Second street. All members are urged to attend.

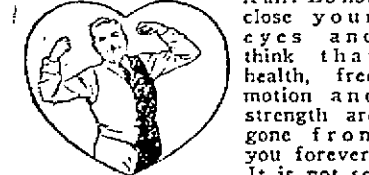

Miss Nancy Guinness of Second street will entertain with a card party Friday afternoon, followed by a dancing party in the evening at "Taylors Woods," the summer home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Harry L. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Koch of Wheelersburg have returned from Columbus, where they attended the graduation exercises for their daughter, Grace. They were accompanied home by their daughters, Grace and Emma, who have been attending O. S. T.

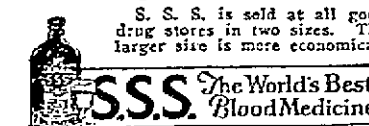

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bickett and children, Sherman and Helen, and Mrs. Frank Bickett left today on a three weeks' motor trip to Cleveland, Buffalo, Niagara Falls and Washington, D. C. Before returning home they will also visit relatives in Charlotte, N. C.

S.S.S. stops Rheumatism

"MY Rheumatism is all gone. I feel a wonderful glory again in the free motion I used to have when my days were younger. I can thank S. S. S. for it all! Do not close your eyes and think that health, free motion and strength are gone from you forever! It is not so. S. S. S. is waiting to help you. When you increase the number of your red-blood-cells, the entire system undergoes a tremendous change. Everything depends on blood-strength. Blood which is minus sufficient red-cells leads to a long list of troubles. Rheumatism is one of them." S. S. S. is the great blood-cleanser, blood-builder, system strengthener, and nerve invigorator.

S. S. S. is sold at all good drug stores in two sizes. The larger size is more economical.

'BLACK-DRAUGHT' DID THE WORK

Says Mississippi Lady, Who Says She Had Been So Nervous She Felt Like Tearing Her Clothes

Biloxi, Miss.—"I had, for a year or more, nervous indigestion, or some form of stomach trouble," says Mrs. Alonzo Ford, 1117 G street, this city. "The water I drank at times seemed to constipate me. I would suffer until I got so nervous I wanted to get down on the floor and roll. I felt like I could tear my clothes."

"Every night, and night after night, I had to take something for a laxative, and it had to be kept up nightly. My side would pain. I looked awful. My skin was sallow and seemed spotted. I would look at my hands and arms and the flesh looked lifeless."

"I told my husband I would try Black-Draught, which I did. I took a few big doses. I felt much better. My liver acted well. I made a good warm tea and drank it that way. Soon I found that nervous, tight feeling was going, as was the pain in my side. I found I did not have to take any more laxative."

"I found I did not suffer with constipation. I gained flesh. I have a good color, and believe it was a stubborn liver and that Black-Draught did the work."

For constipation and indigestion take Thedford's Black-Draught liver medicine. Over nine million packages sold a year. At all druggists.

The country home of Charles Lyons of near Lucasville was the scene of a happy gathering Sunday morning for the birthday anniversary of his mother's eighty-second birthday. About eighty-five relatives and friends were present. At noon a bountiful dinner was served on a long table on the lawn, which was laid with good things to eat. After Mr. George William returned thanks all did full justice to the tempting stands.

The afternoon was spent in social chat, games and music. The violin music was furnished by S. H. Harger and was greatly enjoyed by all.

The guests left for their homes at a late hour after wishing Mrs. Lyons many more happy birthdays and expecting to come back to the birthday reunion next year.

Those present were Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Lyons and sons Harold and Calvin and daughters Norma and Catherine and granddaughter Miss Wynoline Clair, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Lyons and daughter Lillie, Mr. and Mrs. Everett Williams and son Bernard and daughter Mildred, Mrs. Anne Lyons and daughter Clara and son Edward, Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Lyons and sons Earl, Chester and Delbert, Mrs. Tena Hayes, Mr. B. E. Lyons, Mrs. James Hatten, Miss Hazel Crabtree and Mr. Frank Hatzen, all of Jackson; Mrs. Helen King of Sciotoville; Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Henderson and Miss Lillie Henderson of Arizona; Mr. and Mrs. E. Henderson, Mrs. Anna Vaughters, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Henderson and son Allard and daughter Alma, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Henderson and son Junior, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Rapp and son Billy, all of near Friendship; Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Hancock and daughter Mabel and son Adrian of Columbus; Mrs. Belle Henderson, Mrs. Pearl Osborne and daughter Perry of Portsmouth; Mr. and Mrs. William Benson and son Earl, Cyrus, Roscoe and Leland and daughter Orla, Mr. C. S. Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. Arby Childers and sons Donald and Roy and daughters Carrie and Louise, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McKinney and sons Charles and Gerald and daughter Wilma, Mr. Harvey Conkel, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lyon, Miss Nellie Lyons, Mr. and Mrs. George Mllam, Mr. S. H. Harger, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wells and son Orville, Mrs. Mary Wells, and the guest of honor, Mrs. Catherine Lyons, all of near Lucasville; Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Debo and son Lloyd of near Minford.

John Dernback and daughter, Thelma, Mrs. J. B. Debehar and daughter, Marie, and their mother, Mrs. B. F. Porter of Anderson, Ind., are expected soon for a visit with their brother and son, George Dernback of Miller's Run.

Turns Down Offer

NEW YORK, June 11.—Jack Kearns, manager of Jack Dempsey, today turned down an offer of $150,000 for a title fight at the Queensboro Stadium with Bartley Madden, who was defeated, but stayed the limit of 15 rounds with Harry Wills last night.

Kearns declared he was not interested in the offer, which was made by Simon Flaherty, promoter of the Queensboro A. C., who said he desired to stage the contest the latter part of July in Long Island City arena. Kearns declared Dempsey's motion-picture work would prevent him from fighting in July, in connection with which he said the champion would not risk his crown except against an outstanding contender such as Wills or Firpo.

Former Fullerton Girl Killed By Train

Miss Rebecca McFarland, 17 year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lee McFarland, formerly of Fullerton, was instantly killed yesterday when she was struck by a fast train while walking along the tracks near her home in Lexington, Ky.

The McFarland family moved from Fullerton last fall. The daughter was attending school in Lexington, and the parents have been residing in Chillicothe. Mr. and Mrs. McFarland were in Fullerton today to meet the body which was shipped from Lexington, this morning, and arrived at South Portsmouth at about 3 o'clock this afternoon. Funeral services were held at Fullerton this afternoon.

McManis Candidate for State Senator

WEST UNION, June 11.—(Special to Times)—Judge J. O. McManis of West Union, president of the First National Bank, here, announced yesterday evening, his candidacy for the Republican nomination for State Senator, subject to the primary August 12th.

Judge McManis' announcement followed the statement, yesterday, that Senator Thomas A. Jenkins of Ironton, would not seek a second term, but would be a candidate for the representative.

Game in Figures

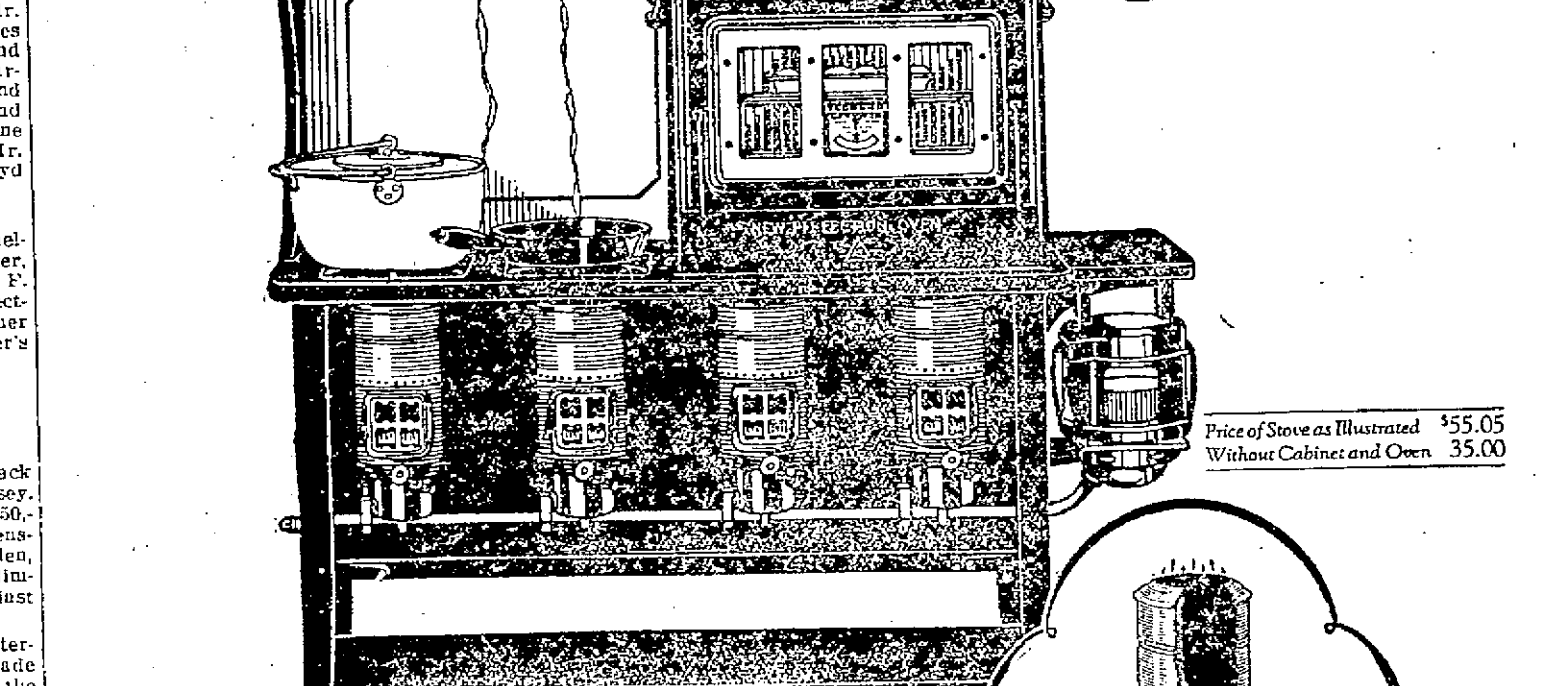

Playing a fine brand of ball, both in the field and at bat, behind the splendid pitching of Bendine, the Hardens-Otway crew had little trouble in turning back "Sheet" Worthington's speedy Triangle brigade of this city at the Hardens arena Sunday afternoon. The village athletes won the combat right off the reel, rushing a quartet of tallies over the pan in the opening round and ran their count to seven by adding three more in the second. Their eighth marker came over in the sixth. Score:

Miss Dolly Wise

She is here to answer any and all questions concerning love, matrimony, troubles, woes, etiquette, etc. Inquiries should be addressed to Miss Dolly Wise, care The Daily Times, Portsmouth, Ohio.

Dear Miss Wise—Of all the freaks in the world we have one in our neighborhood. She is married with one child but never stays at home; is on the go from morning till night. She now has her hair bobbed which adds to her disgust. She tried to come between me and my family, but now while I have my senses will she do this.

DISGUSTED MAN.

If all men would make a resolution like that and stick to it, there would not be so many women running wild trying to vamp them. They would stay at home and take care of their husbands and children.

Dear Dolly—I would like for you to print a way to make beads out of rose petals.

INTERESTED READER.

Gather rose petals and grind them fine times through a food chopper, using the finest knives so that they become the consistency of putty. Now spread the mixture in an iron pan and leave it to become black. In the meantime, frequently stirring it up. To make the beads take a thumb and press full of the paste to admit of uniformity of size; take it out of the thumb and roll it between your hands until it is firm and round, using a little olive oil in the palm of the hand to finish. String the beads on but pins, fine knitting needles or a wire if you have one handy, and place in a sunny window to dry, giving them plenty of time to harden thoroughly. To polish the beads, rub them in a little flannel bag and rub between the hands. You may think them too large, but when quite dry they will not be half as large, as they shrink in drying. They may be strung alternately with small silver or glass beads. The scent of the roses will cling to these beads and they will be as delightfully fragrant in the years to come as at first.

Dear Dolly—I am going with a very nice young girl and we are engaged to be married but I can't marry her until I get another woman out of the way. Now Dolly, would you tell her about this or just go ahead and get rid of the other woman and then marry this other one?

HEART BROKEN BOY.

I think you should tell her about the mix-up you are in, and let her decide what she wants to do about it. If she is as nice as you say she is, she won't have anything more to do with you. If you have one woman on your hands you have no right to deceive a nice girl and make her believe that you are a single man or get her name mixed up with a notorious woman.

Dear Dolly—Could you tell me how to set the blue color in a cotton crepe. The ground is blue. A READER.

Soak the dress overnight in salt water; dry it in the shade, then wash

HOW TO GET THIN

French Specialist Tells How to Lose Excess Fat Without Exercises, Habit Forming Drugs or Worthless Creams.

"If you are 10 to 300 pounds overweight you can easily and safely lose all that fat," says a French specialist. "For years I suffered with high blood pressure and heart trouble due to fifty pounds of excess fat. I was weak, short of breath and all day I could not find any clothes to fit me, and I was thoroughly disgusted with life until I discovered the SAN-GRINA, a marvelous discovery. I know that a great many fat men and women are going through these same troubles. And, for their benefit, I am glad to explain what I did to reduce and how they can easily and gradually lose a few pounds each week without any danger. Go to any drug store and get a package of SAN-GRINA (remember the name, and do not accept anything else, as nothing like this has ever before been offered to the American public).

"SAN-GRINA, the formula of a French physician, has been used in Europe in private practice, where enormous prices have been paid for it. Simply take two tablets before each meal and watch your fat disappear. Once you have started to take SAN-GRINA, you should feel greater pep and energy. No more tired feeling. SAN-GRINA is guaranteed absolutely harmless, and nothing like this has ever been offered to the American public. It has not regained one pound since I stopped using SAN-GRINA. I look and feel years younger, and can sincerely recommend it to any fat man or woman."

San-grina is now sold at Fisher & Steinfeld's, Stewart's and Stahl's Drug Stores.

The members of the George D. Sander Guild of the First Presbyterian Church will picnic at the David Jewett home on Rosemont Road. The picnic was planned for Tuesday evening but was postponed until Thursday.

The Home Culture Club will meet Thursday night in the Mary Louise Smith. The hostesses will include Mrs. E. W. Smith, Mrs. Fred Reinhardt, Miss Laura Long, and Miss Elfrida Shuckford. A delicious program is being arranged for the occasion.

Mrs. F. P. Sutherland and son Billie of Martin's Ferry and Mr. James Sutherland of Union Hall, Va., are visiting with Mrs. Sutherland's parents, Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Christ of Gay street.

Mrs. W. Vogelbein of Hillsboro, O., spent Sunday with Mrs. Minnie Hitchcock and her daughter Belle.

Dr. J. W. Christ left today for Chicago, where he will attend the American Medical Association. From there he will go to Rochester, Minn., to attend the Mayo clinics.

Miss Edith Freeman of Picketon, O., and Mrs. Fred Shy of North avenue motored to Ashland, Ky., Tuesday, where they visited Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Barrett.

Mrs. W. D. Kinnel, wife of Capt. W. D. Kinnel, local wharfmaster, went to Cincinnati today for a visit with friends.

Mrs. Edith Walker Russell and daughter, Sara Louise, Walker, and Miss Ruth Hingman, left Tuesday afternoon for Cincinnati to spend a few days with relatives and friends. While there they will hear Harold Walker broadcast some of his own compositions over the radio.

Mrs. Ralph Marling of Franklin Avenue will go to Springfield, Mo., tomorrow to visit with her aunt, Mrs. S. B. Timmons for a few days at the home of the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Linn. Mrs. Timmons will leave next week, in company with Miss Edith Marling for a summer in Europe.

GOOD MANNERS Needed Card Tray

On the hall table in every house there should be a small silver, or other, card tray, of pad and pencil. This nice kind of pad is one that when folded makes its own envelope, so that a message need not be left open.

The Women's Foreign Missionary Society of Bigelow M. E. church met Tuesday afternoon, June 10, at the home of Dr. Ida Keys, 712 Fourth street. The assisting trustees, Mrs. Floyd Fuller, Mrs. Merle Dunlap, Mrs. Edna Peterson, and Mrs. Frank Revere.

Twenty-nine members and three visitors were present. The meeting was opened with the singing of a song in honor of Flag Day which is on June 14.

Reports were given by the treasurer, corresponding secretary and the secretary of tithing. An invitation from Mrs. E. C. Jackson, asking the Foreign Missionary Society to join the Home Missionary Society in a picnic at the Jackson Camp on Turkey Creek, the second Tuesday in July, was accepted.

The program was in charge of Mrs. Floyd C. Fuller as follows:

Reading, "A Famous Victory," Mrs. D. A. Berndt.

A splendid talk of the work in China was given by Mrs. George Davis, who with her husband, the Rev. George L. Davis, are missionaries in China. She told several pleasing anecdotes, showing that the Chinese as well as the American boys are possessed of much wit.

She gave the Chinese people credit for three admirable traits of character: first, they are gloriously optimistic; second, they have a disposition to "carry on"; third, they have a love of organized service. She paid high tribute of praise to Dr. Lin Kahin, a devoted Chinese Christian woman. She told of General Peng Yu Hsiang, Inspector General of the National armies of China. He has 20,000 soldiers under him, and contends not one smoke, drink or has evil habits. The general is of fine physique and has some of the characteristics of Lincoln, Cromwell and the Christian religion.

At the request of the members, Mrs. Davis spoke of some of the work directly under her own supervision. Sixty little Chinese babies are served every afternoon in the baby hostel, with bean-milk, which is very nutritious. Forty-two children in the schools are given a warm dinner every day. These children are those of the poor "ricksha" men, the lowest caste in China. This work, as well as the entire support of the school is paid for from sales of beautiful bags, beads, embroideries and other things made by the Chinese.

At the close of the program, a special thank offering was given, which time a light refreshment course was served by the hostesses.

John Anglin, who attends the Ft. Union Military Academy in Virginia, has arrived home to spend the summer vacation with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Anglin of 816 Waller street.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

And right in the middle of the patch stood a tiny man

"HOO—whoo—ee—" whistled Johnny Jump Up, the garden fairy, as he stood on the window-sill.

"The Twins jumped out of bed and began to dress as quickly as their little fingers could. "We're coming!" "We're coming!" they called. "Have you got the green shoes?" "Haven't I just?" crowed the little fairyman, hopping around on one foot. "Here's one pair in this pocket and here's one pair in this pocket!" (There! But then on and do hurry, for we're late now.)

"Where are we going tonight?" asked Nick.

"Oh, that's a secret," said Johnny Jump Up, raising his eyebrows until they nearly touched his cap. "But wait till I tell you. I've had a dream, and I'm sure it's true. We're going to a great patch of forget-me-nots."

"Where are we going tonight?" asked Nick.

"Oh, that's a secret," said Johnny Jump Up, raising his eyebrows until they nearly touched his cap. "But wait till I tell you. I've had a dream, and I'm sure it's true. We're going to a great patch of forget-me-nots."

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Peter Newhall, August 11, 1923, fled to Alaska, after being told by Ivan Ishamin, Russian violinist, he had drowned Paul Barjehof, Ishamin's secretary, following a quarrel. Ishamin and Peter's wife, Dorothy, had urged him to flee to South America. He told his wife, Clara Larson, in response to a distress signal at sea, forcing his sea jacket upon him. Their launch hit rocks.

Dorothy received word that her husband's body, identified by his sea jacket, had been buried in Alaska. She accepted Ishamin's attentions. But Peter has been rescued by another ship. Injuries completely changed his appearance and he is known as Lincolnton. Peter Larson's body occupies his grave.

Ishamin and Dorothy go to Alaska to carry Peter's body back to Georgia for burial. They do not recognize Lincolnton. He leads them to the grave. While digging, a storm comes, carrying their ship to sea.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY
"Launch the boat quick, Pete," she said. "Maybe we can catch her yet."

"He shook his head, soberly and respectfully. 'You'd better get back under cover, Mrs. Newhall,' he advised.

"It would just mean to be lost if we tried to catch her. She probably had good reasons for going."

"But to leave us here, in this awful place—"

"She probably didn't have any other choice. I think likely her anchor chain broke. Her crew is heading for some shelter where she can lie at anchor—"

HOUSEWORK NOT DRUDGERY

For Women In Good Health

Read How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Changed Conditions For These Housewives

Back Don't Bother Me Now

Lincoln, Nebraska.—"My back would bother me so and when I had to do any heavy lifting it made me sick to my stomach with the pains in my back. I have my housework to do and four babies to take care of so when I heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound I took it and I feel better. My back don't bother me and I can eat more and work. I do all my housework and washing for six in the family. I will tell other women to take the Vegetable Compound and you will publish my letter."—Mrs. CHARLES DOLAN, 1201 Garber Avenue, Lincoln, Nebraska.

Felt Better At Once

Volga City, Iowa.—"I will tell you what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound did for me. I was all run down and could hardly be on my feet. I was so cold I could not keep warm. I had numb feelings and then heat flashes would pass over my body. I had severe pains in my sides and was very nervous. I saw your advertisement in the news papers so I thought I would try your medicine. My husband got me a bottle of the Vegetable Compound and I began to feel better as soon as I started taking it. I have taken it off and on for three years now. I keep house and do all my work for my husband and two little boys and make my garden. I feel fine and I tell others what the medicine has done for me. I think it is the best medicine in the world for women."—Mrs. THOMAS GRINDLE, Volga City, Iowa.

Can Do Any Kind of Work
Fouke, Arkansas.—"I had a pain in my side and was not able to do my work. I was so weak. I found an advertisement in a paper and it told what Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound would do, and I took it. Now I can do any kind of work I want to. I think every family ought to keep it in the house all the time and I intend to do so."—Mrs. DOLOREZ PHILLIPS, R.R. No. 2, Fouke, Arkansas.

Over 100,000 women have so far replied to our question. "Have you received benefit from taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound?"

98 per cent of these replies are "Yes."

This shows that 98 out of every 100 women who take this medicine for the ailments for which it is recommended are benefited by it.

This goes to prove that a medicine specialized for certain definite ailments is not a cure-all—can and does do good work. For sale by druggists everywhere.

Ivan turned as if he would resent even his shadow of familiarity, but what he saw on the girl's face silenced him. Dorothy had evidently not taken offense. Presently, her hand in his, they were racing together across the tundra toward the shelter of Pete's tent.

One of the natives dug up the roots of a certain dwarf willow that grew beside the creek, and here he found dry kindling that soon developed a cheery fire. Pete's own camp stove soon had the tent thoroughly warm and dry.

The situation looked a little better to Dorothy by now, but it was still a dreadful project. The tent was for one person only; she could not imagine how the four men were to find shelter from the storm. This, however, did not prove difficult. Nick Pavlov was adept at building the combination dugout and turf house that is almost the only kind of human habitation known on the Herling Sea side of the Alaskan Peninsula, and he soon had a shelter that not only defied the rain, but also wind and cold.

Pete disappeared with his rifle up the hill, and soon Dorothy heard him shoot. He returned in a moment with a plump grouse, nearly as large as a chicken, that he explained was the incomparable paragon of the barren land. Pavlov, who had been given the job of assistant cook, cleaned it and it was soon frying merrily on the camp stove.

The entire company was improved in spirits after a lunch of the tender, delicious flesh of the ptarmigan, fried potatoes, and reflector biscuits with marmalade. Pete himself superintended her coffee, and he seemed to know by instinct just how she liked it. It was rich and dark and smooth; though of a hand of coffee drinkers, she herself could not have made it better.

Camp work was completed in the afternoon while Ivan and Dorothy played cards to pass the time. They watched together the gray of twilight thicken over the land, followed soon by swift-falling darkness. The three workmen moved dully in and out of the firelight as they prepared the evening meal.

Pete himself filled the girl's plate and brought the food, steaming hot, to her side. She ate heartily, grateful to him, and his last word was to dig roots from beneath her sleeping robe so that she might spend the night in comparative comfort.

He paused for a single instant in the half-darkness beside her. "If the rain quits tomorrow, I'll cut a lot of tundra grass and make you a real bed," he told her quietly.

Ivan himself could not have been more considerate of her. She couldn't explain how, yet this man's understanding of the North, his confidence in his own ability to cope with it and conquer it, passed to her and comforted her.

"You don't think we'll have to spend another night here, do you?" she asked. "I think it very likely. It is that all I can do for you, Mrs. Newhall?"

"Everything, Pete. You are very kind. What part of England are you from? Your accent is not greatly different from the men of my own country."

He looked straight at her. "Liverpool. But I've been in America so long. In the North, it is queer my accent would be anything but Slavic."

He bade her good night and vanished into the north of the storm. She sat awhile with Ivan, listening to the beat of the rain on the roof.

"Dorothy," he asked suddenly, "does this land take hold of you?" She waited an instant, half-dreaming, before she attempted to reply. "It gets my imagination, some way," she confessed at last. "It has given me the queerest moods, the strangest thoughts—all day long. How does it affect you?"

He moved nearer, groping for her hand. He caught it at last, and his throbbing with the force pulse of his arteries. "Do you want to know how it affects me? It just seems to put me down—strips off a veneer of civilization that I've picked up somewhere and just leave the basic part of me. That part of me is something that you get don't fully know, and I'm sure you would have to fully know it." The voice was subdued, and he spoke with evident difficulty. "Tonight I'm the man of the Ural Mountains. The Occident falls away—and leaves only Asia."

He took his violin from its case and held it a while, looking in his white hands. He began to play for her, softly.

The composition he chose was one that she had never heard before; a wild, haunting thing in the minor that she guessed was a folk melody of his own Ural. He was not playing to her tonight. He was simply seeking expression of his own unfathomable, Oriental soul. As always his technique was flawless, yet tonight he played with a fire and an ardor she had never heard in him before.

Ivan played on and caught the soul of this North in the wild, plaintive tones. The music mingled with the sound of the storm, the rain lashing the tent, the long shriek of the wind, the beat of the waves on the shore.

CHAPTER IX

An Incident of the Trail.
Dorothy slept late, and Pete cooked her a special breakfast when he heard her stirring in the tent. She saw with relief that the worst of the storm had passed through the night.

When Pete took the crude tin eating utensils from her hand, he paused, for a moment, uncertainly. "Mrs. Newhall, this camp is in need of fresh meat," he began rather shyly. "We may be here a few days yet, and a nice venison would go pretty good. I'm wondering if you and Mr. Ishamin would like to go into the interior with me, today, and see if we couldn't get a caribou?"

Dorothy glanced at the prospect. "I'd like it very much, Pete. Let's ask Ivan about it." (Continued in Our Next Issue.)

"I'll cut a lot of tundra grass."

A dim fear trickled through her, a sense of estrangement and at the same time of deep fascination; and she struggled to regain her poise and self-confidence. "Yet this isn't Asia," she said.

"I don't know. It's so far west that it is almost east. It's like my own Siberia. Dorothy, did you notice Pavlov's attitude toward me?"

"No. Not particularly."

"It's like a slave for his master. I am not boasting, Dorothy. That man has enough echo of Asia in him to see Asia in me, and he bows before it. But I haven't anything on earth in common with that big brute, Pete. You, on the other hand, seem to get along well with him. You instinctively like him."

"The East is East and the West is West," she quoted thoughtfully.

"That's it. Your Pete is an Anglo-Saxon—the most dominant of all Western peoples. I am a Russian—strictly speaking, I am a Mongol, and Oriental blood has slanted my eyes. There's no use of trying to hide that fact from you, even if I were not proud of it. Pete and I could never understand each other; we'd fight and kill each other in a minute if the gallow's and several other things didn't drop a shadow between."

"Yet—I am an Anglo-Saxon," she told him.

"Yes." He hesitated. "But also you are a woman. We men of the East do not look on women as we look on men. I don't love you for what you racially are. Racial differences don't have to interfere in a love like ours—in a marriage such as ours would be, that would move like a dream—in a garden."

He took his violin from its case and held it a while, looking in his white hands. He began to play for her, softly.

Medical Association
Protest Alcohol Ruling;
Elect New President

CINCINNATI, June 11.—The house of delegates of the American Medical Association today adopted a resolution protesting against the national prohibition law which interferes with the use of alcohol for medicinal purposes.

The house of delegates asked that the association trustees use its best efforts to have repealed the sections of the prohibition law interfering with physicians of alcohol by doctors and to have the commission of internal medicine to issue revised instructions on this point.

The organization today announced the election of William Allen Dusek, Chicago, as president. During the day the house of delegates adopted resolutions condemning publicly seeking on the part of doctors and private sanitarians to "discreetly" serving of quackery.

Theories Are Proven As Pepgen Continues To Win Favor With Portsmouth People

The health theories which have been so clearly advanced by the Pepgen Specialist now at Fisher and Stretch's Pharmacy, explaining the use of this famous medicine have been clearly proven by the actual success of the medicine since its introduction in Portsmouth.

"Every day," said Mr. Streich, head of the Fisher & Stretch Pharmacy, "well known and prominent citizens of Portsmouth, who have through the use of Pepgen been relieved of stomach, liver or kidney ailments are coming in to my store with written statements of indorsement of the remedy."

Wife Of N. & W. R. R. Engineer Is Delighted

Mrs. J. W. Underwood of 1222 Franklin avenue, wife of the well known and popular N. & W. R. R. engineer in speaking recently of Pepgen, in part said:

"Your medicine Pepgen has been a wonderful thing for me. I don't know what I would have done without it. I had become nervous and run down. My stomach was giving me lots of trouble. It seemed as though everything I ate would disagree with me.

"I would have these terrible attacks of gas and bloating after my meals. And at night, often I would be awake until almost morning.

"My husband had been reading about Pepgen and so we decided to get a bottle.

"I started taking the medicine three times a day, before my meals. Before the first bottle was half gone I began to improve. My appetite got better. I found that I was actually hungry when meal time came. Now after a good course of the preparation I am in perfectly splendid health. My nerves are just as steady as they can be. I sleep soundly every night and wake up without that tired, worn out feeling.

"I want to advise every woman in Portsmouth who is run down or nervous to give Pepgen a trial."

Advertising Executives Talk Classified Ads.

COLUMBUS, June 11.—The classified department was the topic chosen for discussion today at the joint meeting of the Association of Newspaper Advertising Managers in session here.

It. E. Selter, classified manager of the Los Angeles Examiner, detailed means by which his paper had gone to the front in classified advertising. The two big secrets of classified advertising, he said, were the attitude of the newspaper and the publisher toward the sort of advertising and the rate charged which would sustain its standard.

Unfilled Orders For Steel Show Slump; Further Drop Seen

NEW YORK, June 11.—Unfilled orders of the United States Steel Corporation dropped 550,355 tons in May, bringing the total at the end of that month to 3,023,050 tons, the lowest since November 1914, when forward bookings were 3,324,502 tons. The figures, which were made public today show a decline of 1,154,715 tons in the last two months, the May decrease being the sharpest reduction since June of last year when the total of 6,358,261 tons was 335,900 tons below the previous month.

Leaders of the steel industry state that as yet there is no definite indication of a change in the steel situation and a further drop in unfilled orders this month seems likely.

Watch Corner Window For Demonstrations

"Washing Clothes in a Show Window"

Actual Working Demonstration of The SAVAGE WASHER and DRYER in Our Corner Window Thursday, Friday and Saturday

Starting tomorrow and continuing until Saturday we will daily demonstrate this Wonder Washer in our show window. Regular family washings will be used and will be washed, dried and ironed right before your eyes.

If you wish to see in operation, what we think to be, one of the greatest labor saving devices ever perfected, be sure to see at least one of these demonstrations. Not only will the clothes be washed spotlessly clean but they will also be dried and ironed.

Why We Think the Savage Washer is the Peer of All Washing Machines

1. It needs no wringer. The clothes are spun dry right in the container.
2. You do not have to put your hands in hot, roughening suds or cold water.
3. It washes everything equally well. The finest of laces to the heaviest of blankets and comforters come out of this machine in perfect condition.
4. You can wash anywhere in the house with the Savage Washer. No splashing of water from wringer.
5. It washes, rinses, blues and dries without additional tubs.
6. Few working parts. No levers or handles, one simple switch operates every washing and drying operation.
7. It spins the whole tubful of clothes dry for the line in one minute, or ready for ironing in a few minutes more.
8. No danger to operator. Sanitary, dirt and rust proof, built of copper, aluminum, bronze and steel.
9. The cost of operation is trifling, about 2 cents an hour.
10. Requires no oiling. Lubrication is automatic.

Let Us Do Your Week's Washing for You

We want to use typical family washings in these demonstrations. So that you can see exactly how the Savage Washer will help you. About ten washings a day will be necessary to keep us going.

Let us do this week's washing for you. Just call the store and we will send for your laundry, wash and iron it and return it to you in perfect condition, absolutely free of charge. A fool-proof system enables us to keep from getting the various washings mixed.

Municipal Bonds Must Be Sold on the Open Market

COLUMBUS, June 11.—Municipalities and other taxing districts hereafter will be required to advertise all bond issues and sell in the open market as a result of the state supreme court's decision in the case of the state industrial commission. The court's decision now has more than $30,000,000 in such bonds purchased in this manner at par and accrued interest.

The decision also operates as a boon to bond buyers as it will throw upon the market many desirable issues which otherwise would have been taken at par by the industrial commission and the operation of the workmen's compensation law are invested by the industrial commission in bonds.

The court's decision was rendered in a suit brought by the state on relation of the city of Cleveland Heights against Charles G. Frazine, director of finance of the city, to compel him to offer a certain bond issue to the state industrial commission at par and accrued interest.

Old Litigation Settled
Deciding a case which has been back and forth in the courts since 1911, the court, affirming the appellate court of Hamilton county, awarded the Safe Cabinet company of Marietta a verdict for $81,043.50 against the Globe-Wernicke company of Cincinnati for manufacturing and selling metal fireproof containers resembling those made by the Safe Cabinet company.

United States bonds and stocks of foreign corporations or municipalities or other states owned by a resident of the state, and residing in safety vaults in this state are not subject to this state inheritance tax, the court ruled today in affirming the common pleas and appellate courts of Hamilton county in a suit brought by the state tax commission to collect inheritance tax on the estate of B. E. Elletts, a resident of Bellevue, Ky., but in the manufacturing business in Cincinnati.

Next Damage Suit
The court announced that it had entered a week ago in announcing that it had refused to review an appeal of the Pennsylvania Railroad and Ralph Cook, Jr., of Pleasant Ridge, Cincinnati, from findings of the lower courts giving George H. Lindahl, administrator of the estate of Eric P. Lindahl, a verdict for $18,000 jointly against the railroad company and Cook. The court announced today that it will review the case.

Platform Threatens To Bring Storm
The Republican platform, completed after an all-night struggle, faced a bitter fight today over the world court plank, threatening to crush the harmony of the convention.

A strong faction, led by Senator Watson, Indiana, and Beveridge fought against the plank, declaring that it was a demand for the Coolidge managers. When they were finally defeated Beveridge announced that he would carry the fight to the floor of the convention.

A spectacular debate between Beveridge, recognized as one of the foremost orators in the country, and Charles Warren, chairman of the resolutions committee, was in prospect as the convention assembled. Beveridge and Warren were in a determined fighting mood as they entered the hall. Beveridge taking his place with the Indiana delegation and Warren to preside over the meeting of the resolutions committee to ratify the final draft of the platform.

It was therefore, with sense of keen expectation that the delegates came to order at the full of the gavel shortly after 11 o'clock.

The temporary chairman, Theodore Burton, his voice suffering from the effects of his long keynote address yesterday, called for the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," then introduced Rabbi Samuel Schulman, of the Bethel Temple, of New York City, to deliver the invocation and the second day's business was under way.

The plan had been for Bishop Joseph Schenck of the Catholic diocese, of Cleveland, to make the opening prayer. He will perform that function at some later session.

Tribute To Joe Cannon
Chairman Burton recognized Representative Graham, of Pennsylvania, who offered a resolution to send the greetings of the convention to Uncle Joe Cannon on the occasion of his eighty-eighth birthday anniversary. The resolution was adopted in a vast avalanche of "yesses" and then the band broke into the "Battle Hymn of the Republic" with delegates and spectators standing and singing.

This was the first convention Uncle Joe has missed in many years.

The convention then was ready to receive the report of its credentials committee, but Chairman McKinley advised officials that there would be a delay of a few minutes.

Senator McKinley at last came forward with his report. The finding of the committee all made public previously was read by the convention secretary. Chairman Burton asked if there was a minority report and a delegate from Oklahoma moved that the credentials committee be reversed in its decision to accept B. Mont. Kelly and R. H. Todd, the oldest member of the national committee as delegates from Porto Rico.

The Oklahoma delegate proposed that Mr. Todd, Mr. Kelly and the contesting delegates from Porto Rico all be seated on the two sides divided among them. Chairman McKinley seconded the motion and the convention adopted it. Then the balance of the report was formally approved.

Woman On Platform For First Time
In the history of the convention, a woman took the platform as chairman of a major committee to present a report. She was Mrs. Elizabeth Price, of Philadelphia, head of the committee on permanent organization. The convention received her with cheers and the report of the committee naming Frank M. Hall, of Wyoming, as permanent convention chairman, was approved unanimously.

There was cheering as Mr. Mondell, a former Republican leader of the house, stepped to the front of the stage in the glare of a concentrated fire from a dozen spotlights.

The incoming chairman began his speech, which was a short one, with great deliberation. His voice, multiplied many times by the amplifying device installed at the front of the platform, filled the hall.

The convention applauded when the speaker predicted Republican victory in November and again when he eulogized Lincoln, McKinley, Roosevelt and Harding. There was a short sharp burst of cheering when he praised the "confidence inspiring character of Calvin Coolidge."

When he declared for a Republican congress both "in name and principle," the delegates came to their feet and there was a full minute of cheering. As yesterday when the same plea was made by Chairman Burton, the La Follette delegation from Wisconsin, kept its seat.

"I do not criticize a man for not lending," he said, "when there are men who call themselves Republicans, but who will not follow."

Lodge Unaffected By Criticism
Senator Lodge, seated in the front row of the Massachusetts delegation immediately in front of the speaker, appeared unaffected by the continued presence of speakers to failure of Republicans in congress to follow the leadership of the president. He smiled broadly at the shafts directed at Republicans who over-rode the president's wishes on the bonus and other legislation and joined in the applause by pounding on the floor in front of him with his umbrella.

Ending his address by turning to the flag-draped portraits of the past party leaders displayed in the rear of the stage, Mr. Mondell, permanent chairman, announced that it was time for the convention to get down to business.

Mondell introduced Paul H. Hovland, attorney for Harry M. Daugherty in the senate committee investigation of the former attorney general to present the report of the committee on rules and order of business.

The committee announced that the committee had agreed to women equal representation on the national committee. This was greeted with cheers and applause. The committee took this position, he explained, because it believed that "a house divided against itself cannot stand."

The committee announced ratification of the action of the national committee last winter in confirming the so-called "Rottenborough System" in the south. The convention in 1920 instructed the national committee to correct the present system, but after a bitter fight in the winter meeting the committee voted to let it stand. There were threats at that time that the fight would be brought up on the floor of the convention.

Because the committee on resolutions was not yet ready to report, Charles D. Hillis moved that the convention recess until 8 o'clock this evening when the platform was expected to be ready for presentation.

Mondell using his gavel vigorously, declared the convention adjourned, although there were numerous cries of "No! No!"

Only Lowlands Will Be Flooded

According to County Farm Agent W. F. Gahm the present boom in the Scioto river which has sent that stream from its banks will not cause any great damage to bottom land farms. Only the extreme lowlands are expected to be covered on this present rise. Farmers in the lowlands in this section have not planted the extreme lowlands which means the loss in planted corn will be small. They have planted the second and third level bottom land, but the water is not expected to reach a stage that will cover these planted lands.

File Affidavits

Seven Portsmouth persons today filed affidavits with the Public Utilities Commission, Columbus, requesting certificates of public convenience and necessity be granted to them to operate transfer companies over irregular routes in and out of this city. Under a recent law transfer companies operating in and out of a city must have certificates from the Public Utilities Commission, the same as bus lines.

Local persons filing today included W. R. Funderburg, of the Reliable Transfer Company, J. B. Prostok, Independent Transfer Company, S. M. Cole, Try-Me Transfer Company, Walter B. Brown, of Oscar E. Harris, New Boston, and Labun Pitts, Fifth street.

To Present Playlet

Friday, the thirteenth of any month is generally regarded as an unlucky day by those superstitiously inclined. However, the Intermediate Christian Endeavors of the First United Brethren church say it will be a very lucky day for those who attend the playlet they are giving on Friday evening, the 13th of June, in the church hall.

Mrs. W. B. Hany, J. C. E. superintendent, is directing the play which has a cast of more than 35 characters. The proceeds derived from the play will be used to send delegates to the C. E. convention at Newark next week. Remember the date is Friday, the 13th, the hour is 7:30 and the place is the U. B. gym at Seventh and Gay streets.

Award Contract

A contract for the erection of a new church to be built by the church of Christ congregation has been let to George Lemon and the work has been started on the structure. The location of the new church will be at 1478 Summit street. It will be a brick building and the estimated cost is $10,000.

Tonsils Removed

Mrs. Blanche Pigman of 619-1-2 Chillicothe street, who has been ill with rheumatism three weeks, had her tonsils removed Monday.

Confer About Crossing

B. & O. officials were in conference today with Service Director Charles Wilson in regard to the B. & O. underground crossing at Sciotoville. An effort will be made to have it straightened out and various methods of doing the work were discussed today, but no action was taken.

Committee Meets

A meeting of the Entertainment Committee of the Chamber of Commerce was held at the offices of the organization this morning when plans were made for the big forum meeting to be held next Monday evening in the basement of Trinity church. Chairman J. P. Taylor, Charles Scudder, Russell Anderson with President Gilbert Monroe attended the meeting this morning.

Local Lady A Chronic Invalid

But Mrs. Cooper says she's her old self again since "DRECO" relieved pains in back and limbs, headaches, stomach trouble and numbness in hands and feet.

Stewart's Cut Rate Drug Store is a popular place since the Dreco Expert started making his headquarters there and every day dozens of local folks are stopping in to tell how Dreco has helped them. Mr. Stewart, himself, says he never saw a remedy that was the equal of this grand herbal tonic for relieving indigestion, stomach gas, aching joints, dizzy spells, headaches and many other complaints due to the failure of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels to function properly.

Mrs. Delphia Cooper, a well-known local seamstress making her home at 1206 Waller St., has this to say "For five years I have been a chronic invalid. My back and limbs ached and at times my hands and feet got numb and cold without a particle of feeling in them. I couldn't sleep very well and what little I did sleep was a dream. I was so miserable and so full of worry that I was almost a wreck. I moved for 3 or 4 days and I suffered from dizzy spells and dull headaches."

"I've only taken one bottle of Dreco but already I feel much better. Am sleeping fine and eating heartily. The headaches and dizzy spells are gone and the pains in my joints are not nearly so bad. The numbness has left me entirely."

"I'm going to keep on taking Dreco and will recommend it to others whenever I can."

Call today at Stewart's Drug Store and ask to talk with Mr. O'Connor, the expert from the Dreco Laboratory. He will courteously tell you of the merits of this wonderful remedy. Also he will honestly tell you whether or not he thinks Dreco will benefit you.—Advertisement.

Kiwanians Hear Talk on "Friendship"; Will Hold Special Meeting Next Monday

One of the most inspiring talks of the year was the address on "Friendship" delivered by the Rev. William H. Phelps of the Second Presbyterian church, before the Kiwanis Club at their regular meeting at the Mary Louise this noon. Mr. Phelps spoke with beauty and sincerity on this subject of universal interest, mentioning individual friendships, the friendship between races and continents. E. H. Phelps, of New York, presented briefly the work that is being done by the Yale University Press in making the spectacular historical drama of the movies, "Chronicles of America" available to the public.

Two episodes, the story of Daniel Boone and the Vincennes episode are to be screened at a private showing for invited guests only, at the Eastland theatre, on Thursday afternoon.

Next Monday night the local Kiwanis Club will hold a meeting at 7 o'clock at the Mary Louise with a program in keeping with the fact that the International Kiwanis Convention will be meeting in Denver. These Monday night meetings will be held simultaneously by Kiwanis Clubs all over the United States. The committee for the Monday night meeting includes Will H. Fritschler, L. T. Henderson and A. Graf.

Greenup Homecoming June 25

A community homecoming celebration will be staged at Greenup, Kentucky, Wednesday, June 25, and the event promises to be a big affair. An interesting program is being arranged for the entertainment of visitors and the committee in charge is now engaged in sending out personal invitations to friends and Greenup citizens urging them to arrange to come back for the home coming to revisit the scenes of earlier days and renew acquaintance of old neighbors, friends and kindreds.

Hundreds of former citizens of Greenup county, many from the home coming, are expected to be present for the home coming, and from all indications the affair promises to be a red letter event.

Colored Quartette Held for Investigation

L. W. Robinson, 24, Margaret Robinson, 24, John Wheeler, 29, and Dudley Holmes, 27, were the names given by a quartette, all colored, taken into custody by the police at an early home Wednesday morning at Greensburg, Va. The quartette was locked up at the city jail, where they are held for investigation in connection with ownership of the Ford touring car in which they were riding and the presence of three pairs of men's shoes found in the automobile.

NEED OF EDUCATION STRESSED AT ST. MARY'S COMMENCEMENT

Addressing the country's imperative need for educated men and women, Father Francis William Gloeckner, of Trenton, delivering the class address at the annual commencement exercises for St. Mary's high school last night, brought a most interesting message and one that proved most timely.

His address featured the graduation program arranged for a class of thirteen, eight young women and five young men, who were presented diplomas as rewards for completing their grade and high school course of study. The exercises held in the Portsmouth high school auditorium were largely attended by the relatives and friends of the honored students.

The class this year included: Anna Marie Kopp, Eugene Emmett, Raymond Adams, Helen Bickel, Ralph Williams, Lucille Burling, Marybelle Collins, Rosa Doll, Cecelia Doerr, Rosena Frederick, Edward Krick, Mary Margaret Wellman and Albert Reinhardt.

The annual scholarship offered by the college of St. Teresa was won by Anna Marie Kopp. It was announced.

A Real Orchestra
Music for the program was furnished by the St. Mary's Orchestra, one of the best in this section. Their opening numbers were "The Earl King and Raymond Overture," "Pipes of Spring" and "A Merry Life" by Dezza were selections rendered by the high school chorale. The orchestra followed with four numbers: "Waltz Caprice," "Silent Night," "In the Clock Store" and "The College Boy's Dream."

The closing musical numbers were "Praise of Our Alma Mater" and "Gonads" "Benedictus," both rendered by the chorale.

Father T. A. Goebl of St. Mary's church introduced Father Gloeckner and recalled the fact that the speaker was at one time assistant pastor of St. Mary's church and had a legion of friends here who would be pleased to hear him once more.

Further Goebl also presented the diplomas, following a short address in which he highly complimented the graduates on the splendid records with which they finished their high school studies.

Father Gloeckner in his address said:

Merited Recognition
Dear Graduates and Friends:

"You, the graduates of St. Mary's high school are receiving tonight a well merited recognition for the successful school work which you have completed. You have reached the goal towards which you have been striving for many years. This evening's exercises put the stamp of approval on your work and efforts—you have been successful. I congratulate you—not so much upon the talents, the qualities of mind which you possess, they are God-given—for them we thank the Creator, God our Heavenly Father, who bestows these wonderful faculties. But I would congratulate you for the hours of cheerful toil which you leave tonight to the tasks of your school life. Undoubtedly there were many hours of discouragement, when the labors seemed too difficult, the problems too hard—but perhaps your greatest difficulty was to resist the allurements of pleasures and amusement which would have interfered with your school work. It was not always easy for you to combat the temptation of exchanging the irksome confinement of the class room for the imagined freedom of industrial or commercial employment. Many of your companions who began with you on your journey towards the goal which you have reached tonight, have fallen by the wayside, because they lacked those qualities of character, which made your perseverance possible. For these things you are to be felicitated and in doing so I voice the happy sentiments of your parents, the members of your homes, your pastor and your devoted teachers—yes the entire parish and this city as a whole are happy with you and joyfully press the laurel wreath of victory upon your fair young brows.

You have laid deep the foundation stones of education, upon which you may build with the hope of greater attainments.

Education means the development of the faculties of mind, heart and body. The facts of history, the rules of syntax, the principles of mathematics, your Latin, French or Spanish vocabularies—all these things you may forget, but the exercise of your mental faculties has left an indelible imprint upon you which time cannot erase. An educated mind is not necessarily one in which memory retains an abundance of facts, but one which can think straight and make the proper judgment when confronted with the problems of life. The qualities of mind which you have acquired in solving your school problems you are now to transfer to the search for truth, either out in the great university of life or in college. I hope the latter.

For God and Country

The search for Truth—that is the end and purpose of education—all educational training has that end in view—the finding of the Truth through the development of the faculties for straight thinking. The Creator of the universe has written into the works of His hands numberless truths—call them facts of science if you will, and classify them as you please. We honor the Creator in finding these truths. Standing in wonderment before them, our minds and hearts arise in worshipful gratitude to Him from whom all these proceed. God has expressed His thoughts in His works. God has expressed diverse and manifold ideas in the material and visible creation and He has placed man here with faculties of mind, adapted to the finding of these truths. He invites us to come and learn and thereby glorify Him.

"Science is godless, irreligious, destroys faith, disproves the teachings of religion? No. Science is reverent, science is religious. It is the handmaid of Faith and religious teachings. The greatest men of science have been men of deep faith. There is much propaganda in our day by designing and cunning men who for their own purpose would put enmity between religion and science—they would teach the song of hate against religion. They can never succeed. They are neither scientists nor honest men. A pseudo scientist may be irreligious but a real scientist never. When approved theories are turned into weapons of attack against God and religion they deserve to be outlawed as unscientific and dishonest. Religion never dared to demand faith on such flimsy grounds as certain types of self-styled scientists require for their theories. Science has made many discoveries which have been applied to the promotion of comfort and happiness, but not a single substantiated fact or principle has ever cast the least shadow of doubt upon any truth of religion. There can never be a real conflict between real science and real religion—though such a thing is possible through false science and false religion. There is but one Fountainhead of Truth—God. The mind that revealed the truths of nature is the same that revealed the truths of religion.

But a fractional part of secrets of nature have been solved, only the surface has been scratched, deep down there lies buried fabulous wealth of golden Truth. In the presence of these unexplored depths the honest mind will stand humbled and reverent, not proud and self-sufficient because of the few things known. Intellectual destiny leads to intellectual anarchy. It is a pernicious disease which spreads its contagion to the immature minds, who mistake the "sounding brass and tinkling cymbals" of pretensions phrases for the sweet melody of truth. There are too many men of that type in our universities—men who cannot give a rational account of the lowest forms of life, who have never attempted much less made a scientific discovery of their own, but gushing parrot-like in the borrowed phrases of half discovered theories, they deny everything that is spiritual and supernatural. Beware of them.

"America too, needs educated men and women. Never before in our country's history was this demand so imperative."

A hearing on the matter was recently held at Findlay, O.

Some Don'ts

DON'T. Buy too cheap a Wall Paper unless you expect it to turn brown. It will.

DON'T. Buy your wall paper from paper hangers or so-called decorators' sample books unless you expect to pay more than it's worth. You will if you do. Did you ever get a bargain from a peddler?

DON'T. Buy your border by the yard from anybody. They can make you a present of the sidewalk if you pay any price for the border they may ask.

A good firm protects you and charges you market value for what they sell you. We have had a good reputation in this city for 68 years, before it was a city.

Things Seen in Portsmouth

Alleged madman walking through the city with his umbrella. Nothing more about that, only the umbrella was in his hand, not over his head. Exactly fourteen in puffing blower going up the main drag. Flappers dashing fearfully across the street before a street car which was standing perfectly still. Woman from back of town parking her motor a few feet. Two cute young men sat on a bench while waiting for the reason she shouldn't linger there. Five young men with a hot dog in a paper heading Lizzie towards the sticks. Hot dog. Young men playing love games at tennis in the parks. How shocking! BRICK IS HURLED THROUGH WINDOW L. C. D. Anderson reported to the police today that a brick had been thrown through a window at a house he was under lease and furnished on Monmouth place. According to neighbors the brick throwing occurred about midnight, a crash of glass being heard about this hour. Police are investigating.

POLICE NEWS

When Newt McGraw, and his son, Noah McGraw, of New Weston, and Ralph Evans, Turkey Creek farmer, appeared in Municipal court Wednesday they pleaded not guilty to charges of possession and selling liquor. The charges against the trio grew out of a visit of a squad of state prohibition officers to the Turkey Creek vicinity yesterday which resulted in the uncovering of nine gallons of moonshine liquor secreted in some brush a short distance beyond the Evans home, and the alleged sale of a half gallon of liquor on Monday to Robt. Murray and Milford Williams, Schlotzke young men. The officers did not find any liquor at the Evans home but testified to finding a number of empty sugar-bags, corks, empty jugs and bottles there. The defendants disclaimed ownership of the liquor seized and denied that it was even on the Evans land. Newt McGraw further denied that he was at Turkey Creek at all on Monday, and could not possibly have sold the liquor to the young men, as claimed.

Pleading guilty to a charge of forgery when brought into Municipal court Wednesday afternoon, Howard L. Gibson, 20 years old, was bound over to the grand jury under $500 bond by Acting Judge E. C. Miller. Gibson was apprehended by Constable Rocky Newman at Rarden yesterday and turned over to the police on a warrant issued for his arrest for issuing a bogus check for $200 to G. L. Johnson of the F. & M. Motor Company in payment for a Ford touring car, which was recovered and restored to the owner. The accused is said to live in the Rarden vicinity.

In Municipal court Wednesday, A. C. Trout, 36, was assessed $5 and costs for intoxication by Acting Judge Miller. E. Watson, 20, arrested for drunkenness, will be required to appear later.

When the case of Floyd Bland and John Ballard, both colored, arrested by the police for alleged possession of liquor, were dismissed on motion of the prosecution, when called for trial in Municipal court Wednesday. The accused men, who strenuously denied guilt, were present in court with their counsel, Attorney H. Stanley McCall, ready for trial. The complaints were not pressed for lack of convincing evidence, it was announced.

OBITUARY

Mrs. Thomas Brand

Friends of Mrs. Harriett Brand, wife of Thomas Brand, of 820 Eighth street, were shocked today to learn of her death, which occurred Tuesday night at ten o'clock at the home of her son, Thomas Earl Brand in Columbus. Following an operation at Hempstead hospital, May 15, Mrs. Brand was removed to her home and later to Mt. Carmel hospital, Columbus, where she was to take a course of treatment. She remained there until last Saturday when she was removed to the home of her son. Mrs. Brand has been getting along nicely until Tuesday evening when she suffered an attack of the heart that was followed by death a short time later. Her husband and son were at her bedside when the final summons came.

Mrs. Harriett Jones Brand, beloved wife of Thomas Brand, was born October 15, 1850, at Centerville, Jackson county, Ohio. When she was ten years old the parents, Thomas and Caroline Jones, moved to Arion, this county. She attended Pleasant Hill school near Arion. On September 8, 1867 she was united in marriage to Thomas Brand in Portsmouth. Since marriage she had made her home in Portsmouth.

To this union two children, Bertha Mae, wife of Glen Switalski, of 821 Eighth street, and Thomas Earl Brand, of Columbus, were born. She also leaves the following brothers and sisters: Edward Jones, Salina, Kansas; Mrs. Mary Hicks, Tronon; Mrs. Caroline McDaniel, Henley; and John Jones of Sidney, Neb.

Mrs. Brand united with the Methodist church when a girl and remained true to that faith all through her life. In later years she became a member of Bigelow church. The remains are expected to arrive this evening from Columbus and will be taken to the Brand home, 820 Eighth street. Definite plans for the funeral will be announced later.

WITH DONOHUE ON MOUND REDS TRIM THE PHILS, 4 TO 2

PHILADELPHIA, June 11.—Three home runs by Cincinnati batters enabled the Reds to take another game from Philadelphia Tuesday by score of 4 to 2. None were on base when any of the circuit clouds were made. Donohue had the better of Glazner in a pitched duel. Glazner gave way to a pinch hitter in the eighth and Carlson, who relieved him, retired the Reds in order in the ninth.

How the game was played:
First Inning
Wilson made a great running catch of Burns' foul. Walker doubled to right. Glazner pitched to Mokane. Dunne singled to center, scoring Walker. Pinelli singled to left. Glazner threw out Cerveny. One run, three hits, no errors.

Pinelli threw out Sand. Harper walked. Williams doubled to center, scoring Harper. Mokane fanned. Ford fouled to Wingo. One run, one hit, no errors.
Second Inning
Critz popped to Glazner. Wingo singled to right. Donohue popped to Ford. Ford threw out Burns. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Holke singled to left. Parkinson popped to Critz. Holke pitched. Wingo to Critz. Donohue threw out Wilson. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Third Inning
Walker singled over second. Bressler looped to Mokane. As Duncan fanned. Walker stole second. On Pinelli's tag, Parkinson tagged walker. No run, one hit, no errors.

Glazner bounced to Donohue. Sand popped to Cerveny. Harper was out. Bressler to Donohue. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Fourth Inning
Cerveny popped to Sand. Then came the fresh home run of the season. Critz drove landed where the Harpale team against the fence, and stuck in the crack. While Harper and Williams vainly shook the pole, Critz ran around. Wingo bounced to Ford. Donohue put a home run in the left field bleachers. Burns singled to left, but soon died. Wilson to Ford. Two runs, three hits, no errors.

Critz tossed out Williams. Mokane walked. Ford hit into a double play. Bressler to Cerveny to Bressler. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Fifth Inning
Walker bounced to Sand. Bressler put a home run into the left field bleachers. Duncan lined to Mokane. Pinelli was out. Wilson to Holke. One run, one hit, no errors.

Holke singled to center. Three whiffs for Parkinson. Wilson skied to Burns. Glazner singled to right. Holke taking third. Sand popped to Cerveny. No runs, two hits, no errors.

Cerveny bounced to Glazner. Critz knocked Sand cuckoo with a line single. Wingo hit into a double play. Ford to Sand to Holke. No runs, one hit, no errors.
Sixth Inning
Harper was out. Wingo to Bressler. Wingo took Williams' foul. Mokane flied to Duncan. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Seventh Inning
Donohue hoisted to Harper. Burns lifted to Mokane. Walker sailed to Harper. No runs, no hits, no errors.
Ford singled to center. Holke fanned. Wrightstone batted for Parkinson and fouled to Critz. Wilson flied to Walker. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Eighth Inning
Wrightstone now playing third for Philadelphia. Bressler singled to center and Duncan flied to Mokane. Bressler was nailed, Wilson to Sand. Pinelli bounced to Sand. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Ninth Inning
Hendline went in as a substitute batter and grounded out.

Sand and Harper each singled.

Williams was given his base.

Mokane flied out.

Sand scored.

Ford forced runner.

Wingo and Cerveny grounded out, and Critz struck out.

Philadelphia failed to score.

New Top Prices Reached By Railroad Issues On Bond Market

NEW YORK, June 11.—Active trading of representative railroad bonds quoted around the year's highest level, carried many individual issues to new top prices today. With investment and speculative obligations sharing alike in the demand, new 1924 records were established by New York Central, 6 1/2% American Lumber, Reading first 4 1/2%, Wisconsin Central 4 1/2% and Rio Grande Western 4 1/2%. Gains ranging from one to two points were scored by a wide assortment of issues including Frisco, St. Paul, Erie and International and Great Northern issues. U. S. government bonds issues were higher on clarification of the political situation. Offerings of the Nickel Plate $20,000,000 issues today was over subscribed. Preparations were reported underway to sell $30,000,000 federal land bank bonds within a few days.

Demand for Many Issues On Curb

NEW YORK, June 11.—Following the improvement that has been in progress on the curb exchange for some days there was a further broadening of speculative interest today, and nearly all the important issues were in demand at advances. Petroleum stocks were in no way influenced by the reductions in crude oil announced Tuesday, although advances in that group may have been retarded by this action without any special pressure being brought into the market. Standard Oil issues generally made fractional gains, Vacuum

Oil and the Indiana shares being actively traded in and higher levels were established for Imperial Oil of Canada and Standard Oil of New York.

Miscellaneous oils did not move with these leaders. Salt Creek Producers continued in supply and was one of the few stocks that declined during the day. Mutual and Mountain Producers held firm.

Utility issues continued as features in the financial group, a long list of these stocks being active with many making sharp advances. Appalachian Power and Commonwealth were prominent. Debtless held strong, but there was continued absorption of Havelland shares. Hudson continued preferred was higher, moving to a moderate volume of business. Strength was shown in Gillette by Kanox. Coal stocks were held at around Tuesday's levels. Motor of Canada continued its upward movement, falling about points and was the chief exception to the generally strong tone in the trial group.

Electric Bond and Share, Lake Erie and Erie preferred and Capital Stocks, 1,000,000 shares and Laclede Gas, par value were admitted to trade.

ANALYSIS OF YOUR GASOLINE IN PERCENTAGES

Get this power—save 30%!

Facts proved by 2 years of engineering tests

Gasoline performance like that charted above means new power for any motor.

It is possible for your motor—today!

And at a saving of 30% in what you would ordinarily pay for gasoline, a year.

38 cars tested 2 years

Our engineers have just completed 2 years' tests on 38 different cars. They found that PUROL gasoline gave motor performance represented by the curve on above chart.

All gasoline is made up of combustible units. The column of type at left of chart shows the requirements of these units, if a motor is to have full power.

And the curve shows how PUROL performance coincides with the ideal requirements!

So it saves 30%

Automotive authorities know that full-power gas decreases general upkeep. And the other way around. This is proved by two years of engineering tests. Records show:

That PUROL gives 3.3% greater mileage. That it burns clean—doesn't drip into crankcase—saving 14.2% of gasoline here. For this reason saves $2.98 on lubricating oil in a year in general repairs!

On the average consumption of 500 gallons per car, the first two savings—87½ gallons—total $17.50. The four, together, show a yearly saving of $30.81—30% of the average yearly gasoline cost!

Make your own test

An hour's driving with PUROL will show you new performance from your motor—new power—new flexibility. Try it.

Get PUROL at any Pure Oil Service Station or dealer's. You'll know them by the pumps painted "Pure Oil blue."

It is a test worth making.

Russell Postoffice Robbed

Special to Times
RUSSELL, KY., June 11—After breaking the lock on the rear door of the postoffice building on Perry street early this morning, the thief, or thieves, then had complete access to the room. They rifled C. O. D. packages and left with several suits of clothes and other wearing apparel consigned to local residents. Money and stamps were taken home by the postmaster Clyde England, who discovered the robbery this morning when he opened the postoffice.

Chautauqua July 5-12

Meeting last night at the Chamber of Commerce offices, the committee of guarantors for the 1924 Red-pink chautauqua signed a contract for the presentation of the seven-day program this year, and selected July 5-12 as dates for the event.

Place will be settled later by a committee to be named by Chairman Varnum Finney.

Ticket sale and publicity committees will also be named in the near future. Rev. G. M. Hoverton is chairman of a committee to enlist the aid of luncheon clubs.

Scout Executive L. T. Henderson is secretary of the guarantors' committee.

Piles Or Hemorrhoids Are Easily Treated and Cured

When the Doctor Knows How, So Says

Dr. Frederick Blankner

This country is full of surgical cripples as a result of having been operated on for piles. The knife is indeed a dangerous instrument to use for piles and 99 per cent of all cases can be successfully treated if the doctor only knows how. Many people develop cancer as a result of an operation, stricture, ulcers and likewise many lose entire control of the bowels.

The injection method and likewise electrocautery are bad methods unless the doctor is thoroughly skilled. Dr. Blankner has used all kinds of methods and finally concluded that it was purely a physiological disease caused from the perversion of the activity of the portal circulation and constipation, and that if these normal functions of these parts could be restored, it is much better to treat piles physiologically than to treat them artificially with the knife or other barbarous methods. However, the patient has to determine for himself what he wishes and to select his physician. If he acts wisely he will receive wise results, if he acts foolishly his results will be in the long run. It pays to employ experienced physicians who are honest and to this statement all can subscribe. If you are afflicted with piles, make a Little Journey to Dr. N. L. Manhattan Hotel, until Tuesday, June 17th. In the matter of diseased teeth that have to be extracted, then if you wish to smile and say "God Bless the Doctor," Room No. 1, is the only place as all will tell you that have made the journey. No chloroform, ether, gas, somniferous, cocaine or novocain used but instead common sense and skill. Think it over. Office hours, 9 A. M. to 8 P. M. Sunday 9 to 12 M. Phone service. —Advertisement.

Service Company Agrees to Improve Its Portion Of Second St.; Asked To Run Buses to West End

Purchase of Lot Means New Addition For the Irononian

Following a meeting of the West End Improvement Association held in the Washington Hotel Tuesday afternoon a committee composed of G. W. Sheets, J. W. Snyder, P. W. Klingman, J. W. Carroll and G. H. Whitehouse met this morning with H. G. Bonner, manager of the Portsmouth Public Service Company and agreed upon a compromise in the street improvement program of Second street below Chillicothe.

It was agreed in the compromise that the Service Company pave or resurface the portion of Second street between the car tracks and eighteen inches on the outside of the tracks.

This improvement is subject to the approval or rejection of the city council.

The committee also disapproved the proposed route of the Public Service Co. for the new bus line and asked Mr. Bonner to extend the line to Market street instead of to Sixth and Chillicothe.

The route of preference to the West End, as favored by the association, is:

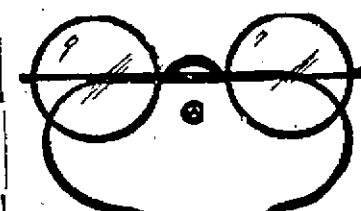

South on Chillicothe street to Second; west on Second to Market; north on Market to Third; thence east on Third to Chillicothe, and back to the starting point.

After discussion, it was decided to send a committee to Columbus to present the protesting petition to the Commission, and to represent the association in the matter. J. S. Lykins was named on the committee, and it is understood that any other of the association who may be able to go, will accompany him to Columbus.

The association went on record as opposing the $20 deposit being collected by the Portsmouth Gas Co. on the installation of gas service in a home, and urging that it be reduced to what is described as "a more reasonable sum."

CONDITION IMPROVED

William Phillips, West Side, was reported somewhat better last night following a serious paralytic stroke which affected his right side. He was able to take a limited amount of nourishment yesterday, and hope is held for his steady improvement, now that he has apparently rallied.

Private Showing of a Great Film

Members of the board of education, teachers in the public schools, and the executive heads of the various civic organizations have been invited to a private showing at the Eastland Theatre, Thursday afternoon, of two episodes from the wonderful "Chronicles of America," the motion picture drama which has been filmed and given to the country through the efforts of the Yale University Press. The Daniel Boone story and the story of Vincennes will be the stories presented on the Eastland screen Thursday afternoon. Admission to the private showing is by invitation only, but plans are being formulated to bring this historic drama to Portsmouth in the near future.

Name Committees for Sunday School Class

DEPARTING FROM PRINCIPLE

PRESIDENT COOLIDGE'S declaration that the Republican national convention must nominate a vice-president that will square with him in views and in principles, is well enough in so far as it goes.

Heretofore vice-presidential candidates have been named either because the place to be filled was regarded as much of a nonentity, or to bolster up some point where the presidential nominee was supposed to be weak.

Intending seemingly to follow Coolidge whither soever he listeth, the Republican party will nominate him, at any hazard, as its candidate. Its delegates are for him, chosen solely for him, wherefore, of course, he has supreme privilege to dictate their every action.

But when his ardent admirers go the extreme and insist senators and congressmen shall be elected under the express stipulation and condition that they shall vote and act, without question or conscience as Coolidge shall direct, then are they calling for the destruction of every principle of representative government; indeed, they are demanding the establishment of a dictatorship.

The constitution defines the varying powers and authority of congress and the president. It has made the one a check against and a balance to the other. If congress is made absolutely amenable to the president then is the constitution surely destroyed.

The president even now has more control over congress than he should have. Why, Wilson, though opposed, by a Republican congress, finally whipped it into accepting some of his major proposals. It is clear enough that had Coolidge been of different mold from what he is and employed different tactics, he could easily have driven the present congress, in which his party has a majority, into agreement with him.

Today, whenever a president has a majority of the people with him he can secure, by one means or another, such legislation as he desires. That is going far enough. To say his word and his will shall be absolute under all circumstances, is attacking the very foundation of the nation.

THE OLD LAGGARD TRUTH

A GAIN must history be rewritten and a beautiful episode expunged from the records of the civil war.

Lee never proffered his sword to Grant at Appomattox, therefore the inspiring story of Grant's magnanimous manner of refusing it has no foundation in fact.

Major Giles B. Cooke, the sole survivor of the even dozen aides, who were with Lee when the two greatest military figures of the civil war met, is authority for the fact that there was no such incident. Major Cooke, who is a retired Episcopalian minister, made this declaration, while attending a Confederate reunion at Memphis, this week.

The correctness of it is of no importance, except to keep the record exactly straight. The glory of each stands undiminished. Grant was the most modest and the most generous of any commander that ever won a great war. Lee was the noblest of any commander who ever lost a great cause. Both of them rose to the highest pinnacle of esteem at Appomattox, and time has left undimmed the national admiration for both.

THE EVOLUTION OF A SONG

MORE people can whistle "Turkey in the Straw" than any other tune.

It has set more feet to pattering than any other dance music.

Originating in Kentucky, first made popular in Missouri, it became the rage and from there spread all over the world.

Today, noted composers are re-arranging it and adding to their fame by its playing.

This mountain lyric has a rather distinguished and interesting origin. It was composed by Bob Taylor, nephew of President Zachary Taylor, about a hundred years ago. Taylor was a Kentucky mountaineer, renowned as a fiddler. He named the tune "Sugar in the Bowl."

Originally the song began:
"Sugar in the bowl, can't get it out,
Take a little straw and stir it about."

In time he moved to Missouri and traveled up and down the Mississippi river, playing his "piece" on the steamer Natchez. From this circumstance it later on became known as "Natchez."

When it drifted down into Arkansas, in time some one added something to it about a turkey scratching in the straw and from that it eventually became known as "Turkey in the Straw." Every phonograph factory now has it in its records and on Greenland's icy mounts and India's coral shores feet are a-pattering to it.

A NOTABLE EXAMPLE

SENATOR SAMUEL RALSTON has been favorably mentioned in connection with the Democratic nomination for the presidency.

However, the Senator himself has had the calm judgment to see and the good sense to recognize that there has not been any great acclaim in the mention of him.

Wherefore he declines to play the minor role of favorite son and refused to have the Indiana state delegation instructed for him.

There is nothing else that could so admirably demonstrate his fitness to be his party's leader. He realizes that the convention has not only a stupendous, but a difficult, task in selecting the strongest and best man. Therefore he would have neither its deliberations, nor its actions hampered by instructions that would impede the fairest and the wisest consideration.

The presidency is the greatest honor that a man can receive at the hands of his fellow citizens. Usually those whose prominence has given them bare mention in connection with the position are eager to grasp at any straw that may bear them in that direction.

Senator Ralston is too calm, too big to be obsessed by any such eagerness. Therefore it is that he must be more than usually worthy and fit.

NEW YORK DAY-BY-DAY

BY O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, June 11—Rivington Street is the East Side's lobster belt. It hasn't the glitter of Broadway, but it has Epicurean delights that exceed. The cellar cafes are mostly named for women. One sees such names as Marie Sylvana, Celeste and Olivia.

There are marble topped tables and proprietors serve the food with as much grace as the most accomplished French maître de hotel. The food is highly seasoned—many relishes, steaming soup, strange pickled oddments and black coffee in glass tumblers.

Each cafe has its two place orchestra, usually a piano and violin and plays operatic airs. The East Side lobstermen begin his lub-lub around six o'clock, for patrons are mostly garment workers who must get their rest. At 10 the cafes are almost deserted.

In each you see the sprinkling of white bearded Hebrews who wear their hats and smoking the little attentions rightfully due age. They sit like ancient Buddhas puffing at Turkish cigarettes. When they do talk the buzz around them ceases. The East Side respects age.

People from uptown are welcome, but there is the intuitive feeling that the East Side cafes prefer to cater to their own. Each displays the plate with dazzling window displays—meats, bolognas, yellow cheeses and goy pastry do-dads.

Outside is the Parisian touch—promenaders are strolling by in endless streams. Gaiters are playing in the gutter. Hardy gauds play vibrant tunes and young hand-holding lovers sit unabashed in shadowed doorways.

It is a pleasant place—this old world cross section. Its people are mostly dreamers, whose dreams come true for they do not remain long on the East Side. The old men who are there are usually men who have failed.

A Short Story

There was once a man who agreed with nobody. Finally he took a trip in the South seas and was shipwrecked. He fell among cannibals and agreed with them!
